Welcome Back !

Laura Ottaviano

Carol Chenette received a Bachelor of Science in Nursing from Pacific Lutheran University in Washington State and a Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering from the University of Washington. She worked as a Navy nurse in orthopedics, general surgery and surgical intensive care. She homeschooled her seven children during their elementary years before helping to start a classical Christian school with her husband. She has taught high school calculus, anatomy and physiology and biology.

Sandy Kelly has a Master of Science degree in Chemistry from the University of Colorado and a Bachelor of Science degree in Chemistry from Geneva College. She taught chemistry at the college level at the University of Maryland and at Lord Fairfax Community College and has taught home school high school students chemistry for over ten years, both in co-ops and in private homes. She and her husband homeschooled their now 25-year-old son, who has two degrees from George Mason University and is working for a large information technology services company.

Laura Ottaviano has over 20 years of experience teaching children, youth and adults having served in a variety of positions including Director of Christian Education, Children's Minister, Youth Minister and Staff Minister. She has over 17 years of homeschooling experience having taught all 4 of her children from the earliest ages. Laura is a teacher, writer, and dynamic communicator. Her favorite subjects are Bible, English and History. She is currently the director of Giant Kids Ministry Network, a non-profit ministry to young people that produces print resources, live events, and video programs that teach kids the Word of God. Laura has an MS in Systems Engineering from George Washington University and a BS in Business from the University of Rhode Island. She worked for 6 years in Antisubmarine Warfare analyses for a think tank in Northern Virginia before home schooling her children.
